

2010 European Summer School on Cold War History
September 1-4, 2010
Bertinoro (Forlì) - ITALY

Call for papers

After a successful experience in 2009, the Istituto Italiano di Scienze Umane SUM and the London School of Economics IDEAS, in collaboration with the Università di Bologna, are convening the 2010 European Summer School on Cold War History at the conference center of Bertinoro (Forlì) on September 1-4, 2010.

The programme will consist of workshops and panel sessions focused on submitted research papers or debates on historiography, broad interpretative issues and new research directions.

The School faculty will include prominent scholars in the field, among others: Michael Cox, Arne Westad, Svetozar Rajak (London School of Economics), Federico Romero (Università di Firenze), Mario Del Pero (Università di Bologna), Leopoldo Nuti (Università Roma 3), Silvio Pons (Università di Roma Tor Vergata), Antonio Varsori (Università di Padova), Marilyn Young (New York University).

The Summer School is an excellent opportunity for graduate students to present papers and receive critical feedback from peers and experts in the field. Doctoral students and PhDs (no more than 3 years from completion) are invited to submit their research paper proposals. We encourage submissions on any aspect of the Cold War, broadly defined. Of particular interest are papers that make use of newly available primary sources. Papers should not exceed 7,000 words (double spaced). At the School, each participant will sum up his\her paper in a brief 15 minute presentation.

Applicants should submit a 500-word abstract of the proposed research paper and a brief academic C.V. (in Word or PDF format) to cwsc@lse.ac.uk by March 26, 2010 to be considered. Please note in the subject line of your e-mail "CW Summer School 2010 - Forlì".

The accepted students will provide for their own travelling expenses to and from Bertinoro and pay a € 50 registration fee. The School will provide board and lodging at the conference venue.

Notification of acceptance will be made by April 25, 2010. Successful applicants will be expected to email their papers by July 25, 2010, the latest.

Please direct all further inquiries to the aforementioned email address.
